aus : The Nation, Nr. 1079,1886,Mrz.4,
S.V

Essays by Herman Grimm.

CUPPLES, UPHAM & CO., Boston,

ISSUE THIS DAY:

SARAH HOLLAND ADAMS'S translation of HERMAN GRIMM'S delightful critical studies, under the general title of LITERATURE.

COMPRISING:

Ralph Waldo Emerson; France and Voltaire;
Voltaire and Frederick the Great;
Frederick the Great and Macaulay;
Albert Durer; The Brothers Grimm;
Bettina Von Arnim; Dante.

"Herman Grimm is a very cultivated man, and Miss Adams is a painstaking translator. . . . Her long and loving familiarity with his writings especially fits her for the work. An essayist is to be esteemed happy who has so faithful a translator. She will have the thanks of many lovers of Emerson. It is a great pleasure to get those essays in English dress."—The Christian Register.

1 vol., 12mo, cloth, gilt top, white label, uncut edges, price, $1.50.

Mailed to any address on receipt of price.

CUPPLES, UPHAM & CO., Boston.

© Hessisches Staatsarchiv Marburg, Best. 340 Grimm Nr. Z 34

UNIKASSEL BIBLIOTHEK