How much I have missed you and how often my best wishes have been greeted with you had been wanderers I cannot tell you therefore you may imagine how glad I was to get those little notices in yours letter from which I can fancy you whole and being though you both enjoyed your nights of enjoyment and it I thank you and have been ever off here where we have an unreasonably mild, though changeable and very unhealthy winter. never had the Doctor met to do and never were more Doctors ill. He had one share of illness, principally in the long feverous fever which kept him out of school for three months and most
