How much I have missed you and how often my hastiness has been graced when you had been wandering! I cannot tell you therefore you may imagine how glad I was to get them and little matters in your letter from which I can fancy you both enjoyed your holidays in the open air. Of course I think you would have been worse off here where we have an unseasonably mild, though changeable and very unhealthy winter. Never had the Doctor men to do and never were more Doctor ill. He had one share of illness, principally in the long severe fever which kept him out of school for three months and most
