How much I have missed you and how often my best wishes have been greet since you have been wanderer! I cannot tell you how often you may imagine how glad I was to get them and little nilliwa in your letter from which I can fancy you think big and being though you both together for the oppressed ones and I think you would have been away off here where we have an unreasonably wild, stormy, changeable and very unhealthy winter. never had the Doctors me to do and never more since Doctors ill. He had one share of illness, principally in his long nervous fever which kept him out of school for three months and most
